Says Output Must Be Greater to Help Supply Yanks
I trivate Cornelius C. Fredericks, of Company M. 6th Infantry, who was killed in action August 18, was only sixteen years old, having enlisted at the age of fifteen. He lived with his parents at 566 Pine Street, Brooklyn.

"What kind of an American am I?" he demanded of his mother when she told him he was too young to enlist.

"A.I the boys are fighting. I'm a big fellow and I can kill a god many Huns."

"nemember Nely," said his mother, "a god many boys go over and all of them won't come back."

"I'm not afraid" wes the answer, and the next day he enlisted.

He wasn't afraid. His mother knew it, and her knowledge has been confirmed by a letter from "Nely's" commanding officer, who wrote: "The company esteemed him highly for his brave conduct, which was an example for the rest of the boys at the front."

ment and equipment for the American forces.

"The Americans have made a most generous effort. They are sending mento Europe far in advance of the development of their own great munitions programme. We have undertaken to most many hundreds of guns of different calibres, including some of the most important types, to the American army. Therefore, our exertions must be continuous if we are to make most our promises to those who are hurrying across the Atlantic to our aid. Without this equipment we cannot have the assistance of those valiant American troops who will be wanted American troops who will be wanted strike the final blow if the war shrould last into next summer."

Socialist Congress Fails To Fix War Programme

PARIS, Oct. 10.—The Socialist National Congress has failed to achieve the object for which it was held—to draw up a programme to which the party could subscribe as a whole.

Votes taken on various programmes show that 1 212 delegates supported the old majority, headed by Pierre Renaudel; 1528 for the former minority, headed by Jean Longuet, and 181 for the Centrists or Moderates. A small extreme element voted with M. Longuet's adherents.

WITH THE BRITISH FORCES IN PALESTINE, Sept. 12 (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Silent death in the blackness of night, the fate of unnumbered Turkish sentries surprised at their posts by patrols of Indian troops with the British army, has imposed upon the Ottoman soldiers a wholesome respect for these darkskinned fighters who have replaced

Silent Death to Foe

The cleverness of the Gurkhas at stalking has had a terrifying effect upon the minds of the Turk, who are constantly finding their men dead at advanced stations with nothing to be tray the coming and going of the foe. The result has been a case of "nerves" the snewny prompting con tare

Buy Liberty Bonds

Lend! your money by buy-ing an unsurpassed security. Encourage and put new heart in those brave men who are fighting your battles "Over There."

Lend! as you would fight if you, rifle and bayonet in hand, were fighting for your home and your life. Do not relax! Do not rest on laurels already won! The foe is not yet vanquished!

Buy to Your Utmost!

Lend! that you may walk the streets with head erect and look your fellow citizens in the eye, knowing that you have done your part to aid our boys who have given their lives in your cause.

Lend! It is the least you can do. Acknowledge your gratitude to our soldiers and sailors. Lend, that when they return you can shake them by the hand and feel that you have done your duty by them.
